INTRODUCTION

1358794

The present volume embodies the 1920 edition of the INDIANAPOLIS CITY DIRECTORY. It has been compiled with care after a thorough enumeration of the citizens and business interests of the municipality, and presents as complete and accurate a work as can be produced, having in view the vast amount of information and statistical data involved. This result could not be accomplished without the unrivalled organization and efficient methods of the publishers. The standard established in previous issues has been fully maintained. The Directory has kept pace with the steady progress of the city and is devoted to the advancement of all its vital interests.

The statistical review which follows this Introduction is impressive as visualizing the greatness of the city in its civic, social, commercial and industrial interests.

In the present volume all of the essential features which have proven so satisfactory to our patrons in previous issues have been retained, and improvements added as suggested by experience, in order to add to the usefulness of the Directory.

The Directory contains a wealth of information concerning State, County and City Executives, Banks, Asylums, Hospitals, and Homes, Building, Loan and Savings Associations, Cemeteries, Charity Organizations, Churches, Clubs, College Societies, Courts, Federal Officers, Foreign Consular Corps, Insurance Companies, Labor Organizations, Libraries, Newspapers and Periodicals, Medical and Dental Colleges, Miscellaneous Organizations, Musical Societies, Post Office Data, Public Buildings and Halls, Parks, Public and Private Schools, Railways, Secret Societies, etc.

As in previous editions, the enumeration of citizens and their business connections was not restricted to the boundary limits of the city proper, but included the immediately adjacent suburban territory, the residents of which are practically one with Indianapolis in business interest, employment or association. Their inclusion in the enumeration serves to make the work a Directory of Greater Indianapolis.

POPULATION OF INDIANAPOLIS.

The official figures for 1920, just announced by the United States Census Bureau, give the City of Indianapolis proper a population of 314,194.

A complete library including directories of all the principal cities is maintained in our offices, 320-324, 8 E. Market St., for the convenience and free use of our patrons. For the benefit of our advertisers and as a means of advertising the City and its business interests, copies of this edition of the Indianapolis City Directory will be placed on file in the Directory Libraries in all of the larger cities throughout the country.

INDIANAPOLIS

DISTINCTIONS WHICH GIVE THE CITY SUPREMACY AS A MODERN PROGRESSIVE AMERICAN COMMUNITY, FURNISHED AND COMPILED BY INDIANAPOLIS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Indianapolis is sixty miles from the center of population of the United States.

It is in the geographical center of manufacturing of the United States.

It is in population, transportation facilities and volume of business transacted, the largest inland city, not on a navigable stream, in the United States.

It has a population of 314,194, 82% of which are native born (white); and 3,000,000 people live within 100 miles of the city.

It is the capitol of Indiana and in the geographical center of the state with railroad or electric railway connections with every county in the state.

It has an area of 42 square miles.

It has sixteen steam railroads connecting all the cities in the central west. Freight shipments can be made through the Springfield & Peoria gateways thus avoiding the St. Louis or Chicago congested districts. Direct connections are also made with New York, Boston, Washington, Philadelphia and all other eastern cities.

The thirteen electric interurban lines radiating from Indianapolis comprise one of the most extensive systems in the United States. The terminal building, train sheds, tracks, and freight houses are valued at $1,316,151. From this station approximately 22,071 passengers arrive and depart daily. The total number of passengers arriving and departing during the year 1919 was 8,055,915. Passenger cars made 129,532 round trips and freight cars 17,175 round trips.

More cities of 30,000 population and over can be reached in a night's ride from Indianapolis than from any other city in the United States, embracing a zone including Chicago, Detroit, Milwaukee, Toledo, Cleveland, Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Columbus, Cincinnati, Louisville, Chattanooga, Knoxville, Memphis, St. Louis, Peoria, Springfield, etc.

Every one of the sixteen railroads entering Indianapolis is served by a belt railroad, fourteen miles in length, which surrounds the city and gives every industrial plant ready access to each radiating line. The industrial sites along the "Belt" are, therefore, very desirable.

The various railroad freight terminals in Indianapolis lie so near together that they might almost be regarded as joint terminals. The two principal freight houses are less than a block apart; and the two most remote are separated by only ten blocks. All freight stations are within easy reach of the wholesale district.

Indianapolis has three direct steam railroads to the coal fields of Indiana.

It has two steam roads direct to the stone quarries of southern Indiana.

Indianapolis is pre-eminently an industrial city because of its geographical location in relation to the general market, because of its exceptional shipping facilities, abundance of labor, the excellence of its labor conditions, and the nearness of the fuel supply.

It had 372 miles of permanently improved streets January 1, 1920.

Indianapolis has 161 miles of city electric car lines operating over double tracks, with five-cent fare and universal transfers.

It has 429 miles of sewers.

Indianapolis has five public auditoriums with combined seating capacity of 12,000 which are available for state and national conventions. Tomlinson Hall, the gift of Mr. Daniel Tomlinson, alone will seat 3,500 people. It is owned and maintained by the city.

According to the U. S. census of 1910, Indianapolis has 53,359 homes and 58,645 families. It has the reputation of a home-owning city. Building permits issued in 1919 showed a valuation of $12,794,536.00.

According to the latest government report, published for Indianapolis in 1914, the average number of wage earners in manufacturing establishments was 30,971. Salaries and wages paid, $27,236,332.00. Value of products manufactured, $188,336,068.00.

It has over 1,000 manufacturing and 2,300 retail concerns. It has 186 branches of outside concerns. In addition there are 200 wholesale and jobbing houses, representing all lines, with a market extending well over the Central West.

Indianapolis has several very large industrial buildings for small manufacturing concerns, which supply space, power and other facilities at reasonable cost.

The city enjoys an exceptionally low rate for electric power. The rate ranges, in general, from three cents per k. w. energy charge for the first 250 k. w.'s to one cent per k.w., with a demand charge of $3.00 or less per k.w. per month.

It has artificial gas at 60 cents a thousand feet. This is said to be the lowest price for artificial gas of any city in the United States.

It has 435 miles of water mains, and 28,000,000 gallons of water is used each day. The water supply is abundant and pure. No other city surpasses Indianapolis in the excellence of its water. The value of the pumping station is $12,500,000.00.

A larger stock of iron and steel is carried in Indianapolis than is carried in any other city in the Central West outside of Chicago.

In 1918, 6,728,750 bushels of wheat and 21,566,500 bushels of corn were handled by local dealers. Total grain handled amounted to nearly 46,000,000 bushels. Indianapolis grain elevators have a combined capacity of 2,480,000 bushels.

An excellent grade of steam coal, yielding an average of 12,382 B. T. U. per pound, is obtained from the Indiana coal fields at an average haul of only 90 miles. The freight to Indianapolis on this coal is 90 cents a ton.

Indianapolis is the commercial center of an agricultural territory of great wealth. Within 100 miles of Indianapolis farm crops were produced in 1918 to the value of $350,000,000. Live stock within the same area was worth $275,000,000.00. Total farm property lying within 200 miles of Indianapolis amounts to at least $7,500,000,000.00.

Indianapolis is the seat of the following state institutions: Indiana State Fair, Indiana Institute for the Blind, Indiana School for the Deaf, School of Medicine of Indiana University, Indiana University Extension Center, the Indiana Girls' School, the Indiana Woman's Prison and the Central Hospital for the Insane.

The Central Library building, erected at a cost of $510,000.00, is a model in charm and equipment. It contains 224,965 volumes, and 758,378 books were borrowed during the past year. In addition to the main building, there are 14 branches, one of which is devoted to business and industrial interests exclusively, and 38 other distributing agencies. The state also maintains a library in the State House.

Indianapolis has a Y. M. C. A. building, erected by the public at a cost of $250,000.00; a Y. W. C. A. building which the public provided at a cost of $140,000.00; and it recently completed a colored Y. M. C. A. building at a cost of $100,000.00.

It has 73 public schools and three public high school buildings, valued at $5,511,608.00. Thirty three of these schools are equipped for manual training and domestic science.

There are 17 Catholic parochial grade schools, with an enrollment of 5,288 pupils and two academies for young women, and three Catholic high schools for boys. The enrollment for the academies and high schools is 265 pupils. Value of school buildings, about $600,000.00.

In the John Herron Art Institute the city has one of the noted art museums of the United States.

Indianapolis has 25 parks, well distributed throughout the city, with an area of 1901.6 acres, valued at $4,680,938.00. A boulevard system connecting these parks encircles the city. There are two golf courses and many public tennis courts.

It has 221 churches of all denominations and a membership and affiliated attendance of nearly 120,000 people.

Directory Libraries

¶ Every Polk office has a library of directories of various cities. These are maintained for the convenience of our patrons, and they are constantly supplying information of many different kinds to people who come to use them.

¶ City Directories are City Catalogs. They contain a list of everybody and everything within a city. Many of the more progressive concerns buy directories of various cities as they are issued for mailing list purposes.

Men of Affairs—

Safeguard their Estates by appointing a responsible Trust Company to act as Executor or Trustee. There is no reason why smaller estates should not be similarly protected. They are in greater need of it---can less afford to incur risk.

Any man with property to bequeath to his heirs should take this means of safeguarding them against unwise investment and also avoiding the uncertainties of individual trusteeship due to possible death, sickness or absence. A personal call or correspondence invited.

Directory Libraries

¶ Every Polk office has a library of directories of various cities. These are maintained for the convenience of our patrons, and they are constantly supplying information of many different kinds to people who come to use them.

¶ City Directories are City Catalogs. They contain a list of everybody and everything within a city. Many of the more progressive concerns buy directories of various cities as they are issued for mailing list purposes.

POSITIVE ACTION

When you are ready to take your business course, act positively, directly, definitely.

This school gives its whole time to the teaching of the business subjects. It is truly a "SCHOOL OF SPECIALIZATION." An active and intense business atmosphere pervades all departments.

As students become qualified for office positions, our FREE EMPLOYMENT DEPARTMENT is at their service. This department aims to keep in very close touch with business firms and their requirements.

This is one of the INDIANA BUSINESS COLLEGES — Chas. C. Cring, Pres., and Ora E. Butz, Gen. Mgr. The others are located at Marion, Muncie, Anderson, Lafayette, Richmond, Columbus, Logansport, Washington, Vincennes, Newcastle, Kokomo, Crawfordsville, and Peru.

You should see this school in operation. That is the only way you can get a correct idea of the work it is doing. But if you cannot call, be sure to write or telephone at once for "BUDGET OF INFORMATION." Phones Auto. 27-614 and Main 1686. Fred W. Case, Principal.

WE RECEIVE many complaints from our patrons to the effect that they are bothered so much by BORROWERS. These parties are not the private citizen nor the stranger in the city, who steps in, looks at the Directory and goes out, but merchants, business and professional men, who need a Directory every day of the year, yet who are too close-fisted to buy one.

These same individuals are the ones that borrow your Directory "just for a minute," which, in the majority of cases, means a day or perhaps a week, unless you remember that they have it and send for it.

These same borrowers will tell the Directory canvasser that he has "no use for a Directory," that he "knows everybody," and, vice versa, "everybody knows him."

Directory Libraries

¶ Every Polk office has a library of directories of various cities. These are maintained for the convenience of our patrons, and they are constantly supplying information of many different kinds to people who come to use them.

¶ City Directories are City Catalogs. They contain a list of everybody and everything within a city. Many of the more progressive concerns buy directories of various cities as they are issued for mailing list purposes.

CAUTION

Pay no money in advance to itinerant Directory Canvassers. We are led to mention this from the fact that certain parties have been fraudulently using our publications as specimens, and by that means collecting money in advance. Before signing an order, see that it has the name of R. L. POLK & CO. printed thereon. We ask no payment until the work is delivered, and our solicitors have strict orders not to take payment for either advertisements or subscriptions.

Directory Libraries

¶ Every Polk office has a library of directories of various cities. These are maintained for the convenience of our patrons, and they are constantly supplying information or many different kinds to people who come to use them.

¶ City Directories are City Catalogs. They contain a list of everybody and everything within a city. Many of the more progressive concerns buy directories of various cities as they are issued for mailing list purposes.

CAUTION

Pay no money in advance to itinerant Directory Canvassers. We are led to mention this from the fact that certain parties have been fraudulently using our publications as specimens, and by that means collecting money in advance. Before signing an order, see that it has the name of R. L. POLK & CO. printed thereon. We ask no payment until the work is delivered, and our solicitors have strict orders not to take payment for either advertisements or subscriptions.

BOOKWALTER-BALL PRINTING COMPANY

Biggest

IS NOT ALWAYS BEST
—BUT HERE'S ONCE
WHEN THE

Best

BIGGEST

The size of the Bookwalter-Ball Printing Company means nothing to you,

—unless that size means a more complete service than you can get elsewhere,

—or unless it is the outgrowth of a persistent demand for our printing because our printing is better.

It is a fact that we are the biggest printers in the state, operating under one roof, and embracing every item of the graphic arts—including original ideas, art work, engravings, copy, composition, presswork, binding and mailing.

Our size does guarantee you not only a better—but a more complete service.

It is founded on the fact that Bookwalter-Ball quality has forced us to grow big.

Therefore it IS logical that you should want to avail yourself of our service.

BOOKWALTER-BALL PRINTING COMPANY

What we do—we do well

HERE'S WHAT WE DO—

We offer the buyers of printing in the vicinity of Indianapolis a complete printing service—from original idea clear through to mailing—if they want it.

We produce the art work, make the engravings, even write the copy, on request.

We guarantee good service, fine quality, reasonable price in the production of Booklets, Folders, Catalogues, Brochures, Publications, House Organs, Factory Forms, Letterheads—and anything else that can be produced by putting ink on paper.
